

The Grist Mill

Victory Gardens

One of the chief topics of conversation these days when citizens lean against the rail at the Station waiting for the train to town is "How's your garden doing?" Whereas the widespread arms used to indicate how big the catch was, now it means how tall your corn is. If anyone, incidentally, has a sure fire cure for the European corn borer, we would be happy to know about it. Our corn is our pride and joy. There are three plantings of Golden Bantam, the first about four feet high (and that's no tall story) but the borers have found it as delicious as we hoped it will be and have wormed their way in to the heart of the stalks near the ground. The solution we have hit upon, and the only one to date, is to kill the borers with kindness—or indigestion—by planting so much that they will give up in disgust, leaving us a couple of whole ears for the table.

The swank grounds of the Merion Cricket Club at Haverford may have a big victory garden near the hallowed turf of erstwhile Davis Cub matches, but Narberth boasts of a victory garden along the bank of the Railroad cut by the Narberth Avenue bridge where the age-old system of terracing has to be employed since the ground has about a 45 degree slope. And if you don't think that is gardening under difficulties, just spend a few hours alongside the railroad, equipped with a shovel and pick-axe to dig yourself out from under the tons of clinders that the steam locomotives belch forth as they huff and puff up the grade from Merion. The gentlemen who operate the railroad bank gardens report that crops aren't too good, due to the fact that the drainage is too good. Ninety percent of the rain runs right off, down the bank, they say. Instead of soaking into the ground and feeding the roots of the tomatoes, beans and other vegetables. Chief gardener of the Railroad bank is Charles Young, a blacksmith who has been employed at the Autocar Company for many years. Another "slope" gardener is F. I. Shellenberger, a Pennsy employee, who lives just across the bridge at 103 S. Narberth Avenue and is in a good position to observe how his garden grows from his windows.

MATERNITY CARE FOR SERVICEMEN'S WIVES

More than three-fourths of the states have received approval by the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, of programs for medical hospital maternity care for wives of men in the four lowest pay grades of the armed services. The program also includes medical care for babies. A service man's wife may make application for complete medical care during pregnancy and childbirth, and for six weeks after childbirth. She may also apply for medical care for her child to extend throughout the child's first year of life. To get such care, all that the wife needs to do is to fill out simple forms, which, if her own doctor is unable to furnish copies, she can get from the State health department.

NO GAS TO GO TO GARDENS

Special rations of gasoline for travel to Victory gardens were discontinued July 12, although rations already issued for this purpose may be used as long as valid. This action was taken by OPA upon advice of the Department of Agriculture that gardens planted after that date would be too late to produce enough food to warrant extra use of tires and gasoline in cultivating them.

CAN'T SEND RECORDINGS OVERSEAS

Discs or recordings containing personal messages cannot be sent to soldiers stationed outside the continental limits of the U. S., the War Department has announced. There is no objection to send discs of personal messages within the continental United States.

VACATION TRIP FOR MOTORISTS

Motorists in the Northeastern gasoline restricted area may use their "A" rations, beginning July 15, for one round trip to a summer home or other vacation place, in the absence of adequate alternative transportation, Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown has announced. Before making a trip, motorists must apply to their ration board for written authorization stating the starting point and destination of the trip and dates on which it will be made. Authorization does not give the motorist an extra ration of gasoline.

RATIONS FOR SICK

Although the need to conserve rationed foods is great, no hospital patient's health need suffer, the OPA has announced. Local rationing boards have been given authority to provide supplementary allotments to meet the dietary requirements of patients in hospitals—whether or not such patients are on special diets.

MILEAGE FOR AIR RAID WARDENS

Air raid wardens, while not eligible for "C" ration books, may continue to get "B" books, according to OPA. Volunteers regularly performing work contributing to the war effort or public welfare who need supplemental mileage should have applications certified by some authorized representative of the agency for which the work is being performed.

SAYS BUG POISON ALSO KILLS TREES

Issues Warning Against Cure-All Sold in Suburbs

Sale of a preparation on the Main Line, that is supposed to kill bugs, animals and diseases but usually kills fine shade trees instead, was exposed this week.

Complaints that the product was being sold and that its use was poisonous to trees have been received by public officials in Haverford Township Shade Tree Commission. All of the preparations sold are not the same but most of them have a sticky base that is supposed to trap destructive bugs.

Reports of the slow death of many fine shade trees has been reported. Often the substance, after it is applied, kills the bark around the entire girth of the tree. Then the leaves start wilting and the trees show sign of decay throughout its branches.

One of the public officials, who has received numerous complaints, is A. C. Williams, director of public works in Haverford Township.

He has advised residents not to allow anyone to treat their trees unless the man has in his possession an authorized statement from the Haverford Township Tree Commission stating that he is qualified to treat trees with material that has been approved by the State Department of Agriculture.

July 4 Celebration Called Financial, Social Success

The Fourth of July was a financial as well as a patriotic and social success, declared Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, chairman of the Women's Narberth Day Committee. Returns amounted to $275.90, with all expenses deducted. Last year, the first time for the community home celebration, less than $100 was cleared.

Participation in the various activities also showed a marked increase this year. In the pet show, there were 26 entries, for which three first, and three second prizes were given. In the hobby show, 25 entries were made, and a total of eight prizes awarded. In the baby show, 49 children were entered: 23 in the younger group, to whom five prizes were given, and 26 in the older, to whom six prizes were awarded.

Fifty entries were made for the antique display, in which eight prizes were given. Fewest entries were in the table arrangement contest, which had only five contestants. Two prizes were given in this division. This contest was an innovation this year.

Another innovation was the "White Elephant Table," run by the Voluntary Emergency Relief Committee of Narberth, which was completely sold out. The group has already started its collections toward next year's sales. Members will welcome miscellaneous articles which residents of Narberth wish to contribute.

The money was collected and disbursed as follows: Churches cleared $147.16; other organizations cleared $160.22. Cash donations amounted to $5.50. General expenses came to $36.98.

Mrs. Mueller was in charge of the various churches and organizations participating in the day's activities. Walter Case, head of the Narberth Business Men's Council, took charge of the athletic program. J. J. Cabrey was general chairman.

FLEER READS REPORT ON ASSESSMENTS

Says He Hopes for Results From Planning Comm.

At the meeting of the Narberth Borough Council held on Monday, Roland Fleer, president of the Council read a report on the problem of assessments in the borough.

He urged the continuance of the Zoning Ordinance and the new Building Code already passed by the Council, and added that he expected the Planning Commission, already undertaken but as yet unproductive, to be one of the most important factors in keeping Narberth a desirable residential district.

The problem of assessment, Fleer said, is this: That although taxes decrease as property depreciates due to age, the borough's problem of keeping the community just as attractive and in just as good condition as ever, increases proportionately as the properties age, and the taxes decrease.

"How long can we keep on producing sufficient tax revenue to render these (necessary and desirable municipal) services simply by maintaining assessments where they now are?" he asked. He urged that the Council consider something more than simply maintaining assessments, and pointed out the three steps mentioned above as a possible answer to the problem.

His report has been submitted to committee.

Young People Attend Bible Conference At Summer Camps

Eight young people from the Narberth Presbyterian Church will attend Summer Bible Conferences at church camps.

Sec'y. of Chinese Assn. to Speak At Haverford

The part played by the Chinese Cooperative Movement in maintaining the economy of China during six years of war, will be discussed at Haverford College, the evening of July 24 at 8 o'clock, by Professor Shih-Chi Hu, general secretary of the C-operative League of China, with headquarters at Chungking.

The meeting at Roberts Hall, Haverford College, will be under the auspices of the Main Line Co-operative Association of Bryn Mawr, and because of the importance of the speaker, will be open to the public as well as to members of that association.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is honorary president of the Co-operative League of China, which by organizing industry and food production and distribution in the unoccupied area of that country has done much to rebuild and strengthen the national economy in the face of Japanese aggression.

Much credit is given to the Co-operative League of China for maintaining some currency stability.

Relief Payments Continue To Drop

Direct relief payments made to needy residents of Montgomery County during the week ending July 9 totalled $760.80 which was $132.30 less than those of the comparable week of last year.

Permits for Vacation Now Available

The Ardmore War Price and Rationing Board today announced that they are prepared to issue permits for vacation trips by automobile.

They point out that everyone may not receive this permission, but that the regulations require that certain requirements be met.

It must be proved to the satisfaction of the Board that no other adequate means of transportation are available, and that the applicant has saved for this purpose a sufficient number of valid A coupons to permit a round trip.

Hung over the main entrance to the Court House, the flag contains one blue star with the number 18,856, indicating the total of County residents today in the service. Provision has been made for periodic changes of the service number in order to keep up-to-date. Compiling of the list of those in the armed forces has been organized by Montgomery County Commissioners Frederick C. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch through local assessors, Civilian Defense workers and other sources.

KYW SALUTES NARBERTH BORO

Hails War Work of Citizens; Cites Gifts to men in Service

Hailing Narberth's "broad lawns, fine homes, public buildings, and excellent parks," the Valley Forge Caravan of KYW opened its "Salute to Narberth" on the air last Friday from 11:05 P. M. to 12:05 A. M.

Giving briefly the origin of Narberth and its founding by the Welsh Quakers and Friends, the "Salute" moved rapidly to Narberth's more recent history, dating from its incorporation as a borough in 1895. Special attention was given to Narberth's contributions to the war effort.

Narberth Primed for Second Meet With Determined Manoa Nine

Narberth's eight game winning streak in the Main Line Baseball League will be in jeopardy Sunday afternoon when the borough toppers invade Haverford Township to take on the scrappy Manoa A. A. nine.

This second meeting between the league's arch-rivals will be staged at Veteran's Park, Darby and Manoa Rds., with the first pitch slated for 3:15 P. M.

Narberth had its closest call in its first game with Manoa, needing a spectacular ninth inning rally to turn the trick, 4-3. In scoring this triumph, Gene Davis' men had the satisfaction of defeating Walt Cantwell, veteran Manoa hurler who beat Narberth every time he faced them last year.

Cantwell, who has yet to score a victory this year, has asked Bill time wants the satisfaction of being the first to tame the loop pacesetters.

Bill O'Donnell, who hurled a no-hit, no-run game the last time out, probably will draw the assignment of facing Manoa, which is tied for second place with Pen-Mar.

A victory for Manoa would tighten up the race considerably but if Narberth maintains its streak there won't be much hope of anyone overtaking the leaders.

Narberth fans unable to make the trip to the neighboring township will have a game to command their attention in the borough just the same. Overbrook and Brookline, both playing vastly improved ball, will battle for fourth place on the Narberth diamond, while Pen-

Judge Harold G. Knight, President Judge of the County Courts, speaker at the dedication exercises, pointed to Valley Forge as a symbol of our will to win despite hardships, defeats and privations.

The County, he declared, has done its part in past wars and in World War 2, it again is sending its youth from farms and factories, schools and offices into the armed forces. These young men and young women are giving the lie to the enemy's claim that we have grown soft and decadent, he asserted.

On the home front, he cited the production of war materials in the factories of the County, the Civilian Defense Organization and the readiness of the vast majority of the County's residents to cooperate fully with all measures aimed at aiding the war effort.

"We must tolerate no complacency, no overconfidence until full and complete victory is won," he declared.

"This flag which we dedicate today is a token of our pride in the men and women from Montgomery County in the Armed forces and of our appreciation for the job they are doing," he said.

Church Adds Names To Service Honor Roll

The names of three young men have just been added to the Service Honor Roll of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, at Windsor and Grayling Aves., bringing the number on the honor roll into a total of ninety-seven.

MOVE TO ELIMINATE TRAFFIC HAZARD

Commissioners Announce Removal of Hav'rd. Rd. Offset

Elimination of a serious hazard to traffic on Haverford Road at City Line in the Penn Wynne section of Lower Merion will begin tomorrow, it was announced by Montgomery County Commissioners Fred S. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch.

The work, to be done by the County Highway Department in conjunction with the State Department of Highways, will consist of eliminating the "offset" in Haverford Road at City Line on the northwest corner which juts out into the roadway. In normal times, this intersection carries traffic in excess of 20,000 vehicles daily.

The roadway of Haverford Road will be widened to approximately 25 feet at the corner radius. The widening will carry along Haverford Road for about 200 feet, tapering off as it goes. The curb will be reset, the brick and ornamental iron wall in front of the Sacred Heart Academy property will be moved back, a new sidewalk will be laid and shrubbery reset.

There is no sidewalk at present in front of the Academy property. The new walk will extend up Haverford Road and City Line for a distance of approximately 100 feet.

Since Haverford Road is a State Highway, the State Department of Highways will reset manholes and inlets for surface water drainage and pave the widened portion of the roadway with 10 inches of concrete to match the existing road.

County forces will reset the curb, relocate the high brick wall, reset shrubbery and install the sidewalk. Estimated cost of the project is $8,000, of which $5,000 will be the County's share. The work to be done by the County will be under the County Aid plan, whereby Lower Merion Township will pay 40 per cent of the estimated cost.

At the meeting of the Narberth Borough Council held on Monday, Roland Fleer, president of the Council read a report on the problem of assessments in the borough. He urged the continuance of the Zoning Ordinance and the new Building Code already passed by the Council, and added that he expected the Planning Commission, already undertaken, but as yet unproductive, to be one of the most important factors in keeping Narberth a desirable residential district.

The problem of assessment, Fleer said, is this: That although taxes decrease as property depreciates due to age, the borough's problem of keeping the community just as attractive and in just as good condition as ever, increases proportionately as the properties age, and the taxes decrease.

"How long can we keep on producing sufficient tax revenue to render these (necessary and desirable municipal) services simply by maintaining assessments where they now are?" he asked. He urged that the Council consider something more than simply maintaining assessments, and pointed out the three steps mentioned above as a possible answer to the problem.

His report has been submitted to committee.

Sec'y. of Chinese Assn. to Speak At Haverford

The part played by the Chinese Cooperative Movement in maintaining the economy of China during six years of war, will be discussed at Haverford College, the evening of July 24 at 8 o'clock, by Professor Shih-Chi Hu, general secretary of the C-operative League of China, with headquarters at Chungking.

The meeting at Roberts Hall, Haverford College, will be under the auspices of the Main Line Co-operative Association of Bryn Mawr, and because of the importance of the speaker, will be open to the public as well as to members of that association.

Much credit is given to the Co-operative League of China for maintaining some currency status.

Narberth Primed for Second Meet With Determined Manoa Nine

Narberth's eight game winning streak in the Main Line Baseball League will be in jeopardy Sunday afternoon when the borough tossers invade Haverford Township to take on the scrappy Manoa A. A. nine. This second meeting between the league's arch-rivals will be staged at Veteran's Park, Darby and Manoa Rds., with the first pitched for 3:15 P. M.

Narberth had its closest call in its first game with Manoa, needing a spectacular ninth inning rally to turn the trick, 4-3. In scoring this triumph, Gene Davis' men had the satisfaction of defeating Walt Cantwell, veteran Manoa hurler who beat Narberth every time he faced them last year.

Cantwell, who has yet to score a victory this year, has asked Bill

Judge Harold G. Knight Is Speaker At Dedication Ceremonies at Court House July 12

A County Service Flag honoring the thousands of men and women in the armed forces of the Nation from Montgomery County was unfurled and dedicated at the Court House on Monday, July 12, with a simple ceremony.

Hung over the main entrance to the Court House, the Flag contains one blue star with the number 18,856, indicating the total of County residents to date in the service. Provision has been made for periodic changes of the service number in order to keep up-to-date. Compiling of the list of those in the armed forces has been organized by Montgomery County Commissioners Frederick C. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch through local assessors, Civilian Defense workers and other sources.

KYW SALUTES NARBERTH BORO

Hails War Work of Citizens; Cites Gifts to men in Service

Hailing Narberth's "broad lawns, fine homes, public buildings, and excellent parks," the Valley Forge Caravan of KYW opened its "Salute to Narberth" on the air last Friday from 11:05 P. M. to 12:05 A. M.

Giving briefly the origin of Narberth and its founding by the Welsh Quakers and Friends, the "Salute" moved rapidly to Narberth's more recent history, dating from its incorporation as a borough in 1895. Special attention was given to Narberth's contributions to the war effort.

Women's Committee Re-elects Officers

At a meeting last week of the Women's Narberth Day Committee, the following officers were re-elected: Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, chairman; Mrs. Harry Haller, secretary, and Mrs. John Wetzel, treasurer.

Mrs. Mueller is having a dessert luncheon at her home at 208 Essex Ave., on Tuesday, July 20, for those who worked with her on this year's Independence Day celebration.

Judge Harold G. Knight, President Judge of the County Courts, speaker at the dedication exercises, pointed to Valley Forge as a symbol of our will to win despite hardships, defeats and privations.

The County, he declared, has done its part in past wars and in World War 2, it again is sending its youth from farms and factories, schools and offices into the armed forces. These young men and young women are giving the life to the enemy's claim that we have grown soft and decadent, he asserted.

On the home front, he cited the production of war materials in the factories of the County, the Civilian Defense Organization and the readiness of the vast majority of the County's residents to cooperate fully with all measures aimed at aiding the war effort.

"We must tolerate no complacency, no overconfidence until full and complete victory is won," he declared.

"This Flag which we dedicate today is a token of our pride in the men and women from Montgomery County in the Armed forces and of our appreciation for the job they are doing," he said.

MOVE TO ELIMINATE TRAFFIC HAZARD

Commissioners Announce Removal of Hav'rd. Rd. Offset

Elimination of a serious hazard to traffic on Haverford Road at City Line in the Penn Wynne section of Lower Merion will begin tomorrow, it was announced by Montgomery County Commissioners Fred S. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch.

The work, to be done by the County Highway Department in conjunction with the State Department of Highways, will consist of eliminating the "offset" in Haverford Road at City Line on the northwest corner which juts out into the roadway. In normal times, this intersection carries traffic in excess of 20,000 vehicles daily.

The roadway of Haverford Road will be widened to approximately 25 feet at the corner radius. The widening will carry along Haverford Road for about 200 feet, tapering off as it goes. The curb will be reset, the brick and ornamental iron wall in front of the Sacred Heart Academy property will be moved back, a new sidewalk will be laid and shrubbery reset.

There is no sidewalk at present in front of the Academy property. The new walk will extend up Haverford Road and City Line for a distance of approximately 100 feet.

Since Haverford Road is a State Highway, the State Department of Highways will reset manholes and inlets for surface water drainage and pave the widened portion of the roadway with 10 inches of concrete to match the existing road.

County forces will reset the curb, relocate the high brick wall, reset shrubbery and install the sidewalk. Estimated cost of the project is $8,000, of which $5,000 will be the County's share. The work to be done by the County will be under the County Aid plan, whereby Lower Merion Township will pay 40 per cent of the estimated cost.

ENOUGH FLOOR COVERINGS

Smooth durable linoleum and printed floor coverings are being produced in substantial quantities to meet the greatly increased demand, WPB has reported. Used in new housing projects and in reconditioning old buildings, smooth surface floor coverings save lumber, nails, and labor, and contribute to sanitation.

MANY SHIPS LAUNCHED

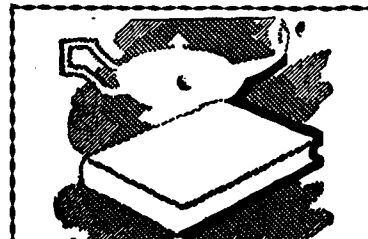

The Nation's shipyards delivered 168 cargo vessels totaling 1,676,500 deadweight tons in June, the Maritime Commission has announced. This may be compared with the record total of 175 for May and 157 in April. The June figures brought production for the first half of 1943 to 879 ship totaling 8,818,622 deadweight tons. In the entire year 1942 the yards produced 746 vessels totaling 8,089,732 deadweight tons.

Uncle Sam now runs 2,027 bowling alleys at army, navy, marine and coast guard stations throughout the country. American Bowling Congress figures show there are 16,000,000 Americans now spilling pins, including 13,500,000 men, 2,000,000 women and approximately 500,000 youngsters. Of these, 14,200,000 bowl against tenpins (the big pins), while 1,800,000 along the eastern and southern seaboard roll against duckpins and candlepins.

CANNING KITCHEN OPENS IN ARDMORE

Twp. Residents May Use Facilities Weekdays, 9.30 to 5

The Home Economics Kitchen in the Ardmore Junior High School will be the scene of much activity during the weeks ahead for the canning facilities there will be available to citizens of Lower Merion Township for the purpose of canning food for home use.

On Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week from 9:30 to 5 the kitchen will be open for the use of those who may wish to take their own produce and can it under the supervision of an experienced person. Mrs. Albert LeFleur will be at the kitchen on both days each week to serve in an advisory capacity.

Mrs. L. Caspar Wister, chairman of the Canning Committee, says that two pressure cookers are on hand at the school but that there is need for another one. She would like to hear from any person willing to lend a pressure cooker to the committee for use in the canning project. This community project also needs donations of food, jars and money.

In addition to providing facilities for the individual housewife to do her own canning, the committee has evolved a plan to make use of any excess vegetables that may be produced in home gardens. Persons with excess vegetables are asked to donate them to be canned at the Junior High School by volunteer workers, the canned products in turn to be turned over to the Main Line Federation of Churches.

Those wishing to donate vegetables for this worthy purpose may take them to the Junior High School on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, or to the Ardmore railroad station on the same days before 9:30 A. M., where they will be picked up and taken to the canning rooms.

Here is an opportunity for the patriotic Victory Gardener to be of constructive help and at the same time dispose of all the excess produce from his garden that he, himself, does not need, said the committee.

Drennan, Principal of Narberth Public School, and in charge of the Board of Health, and William Durbin, president of the Fire Company and member of Narberth Draft Board.

The program stressed the fact that Narberth was the first community in Pennsylvania to take advantage of the State Defense Act, with the result that Narberth today "may boast of an excellent first Civilian Defense Corps." Activities of the Red Cross, the American Legion's Harold D. Speakman Post under the command of Douglas C. Miner, and the Narberth Medical Corps, headed by Thomas Merkle, and their part in forming the Narberth Citizens' Committee were cited as typical of the desire of Narberth residents to do something more for the boys.

The script went on to describe the Christmas packages mailed to all Narberth boys in service, under the direction of J. J. Cabrey, with the co-operation of the Citizens' Committee, and other volunteer workers, excerpts from letters published in "Our Town" were read, giving the grateful comments of the boys in service.

"Our Town" and its editor were commended on their community service in keeping the residents well informed on all happenings concerning local boys and community activities.

The broadcast concluded "It is to this borough within Lower Merion Township, one of the very finest in all America, that we raise the ban-

18,856 In Armed County Flag Forces Honored in

Singing of the Star Spangled Banner concluded the brief exercises held at noon on the Court House steps. County officials and employees, members of the County Bar, Norristown citizens and others attended the ceremony.

The Service Flag, eight by twelve feet, is surrounded by a fifteen foot wooden plaque bearing the words: "Montgomery County, Serving Their Country." The background of the plaque is blue with white raised letters. Gilded wings on each end of the plaque have the effect of blending the whole into the architectural scheme of the building.

The Service Flag is flanked on one side by an American Flag and on the other by a County Flag in maroon and grey, both projecting out from the building on flag poles tipped with eagles.

Narberth had the distinction (?) of being ballyhooed on the radio last Friday night over Station KYW as a feature of the Valley Forge Caravan program, sponsored by the Adam Scheldt brewing company of Norristown, "makers of . . ." In case you didn't hear the program, we will give a brief resume of it. Narberth was described, somewhat generously, as a town of beautiful homes, lovely lawns, and gardens, etc., making us conjure up mind pictures of some of the more exclusive Main Line suburbs. Then the announcer dashed off the names of a few prominent citizens, including Burgess Richard L. Miller, CD Commander Burns Best, Principal Jim Drennen and Draft Board member Bill Durbin. He credited Narberth with being the first municipality in Pennsylvania to set up a Civilian Defense organization, a fact which this paper printed long ago; praised the work of the Citizens' Committee which sent the Xmas packages to the boys in the service and sees to it that every lad, or lass, who leaves for the armed forces, receives a similar package. J. J. Cabrey, chairman of said committee, was credited with sponsoring the plan, and rightly so. Narberth, the announcer stated, has more than 500 of its sons in the service and is justly proud of that record. The Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion, under the leadership of Commander Douglas Miner and the Medical Corps commanded by Tom Merkle also were singled out for notice as was Geo.

Walker, editor of this paper and another Narberthite, Harold Keating, editor of an Ardmore paper.

War-time Transportation Note

A check-up by one of our operators on a recent afternoon revealed the following information: that 13 bicycles were parked at the north side of the Narberth Station, 10 of them in the rack made for the purpose and the others nearby. Some bikes were equipped with carrying baskets attached to the handlebars, some were women's wheels, and most were locked. It's a poor day, too, when several bikes aren't parked against Davis' windows or left sprawled over the sidewalks, leaving the poor benighted pedestrians to thread their way along the sidewalk as best they may. Borough Solicitor Henry Frye, who some years ago used to get his exercise chopping the cover off tennis balls on the courts of the old Narberth Tennis Club, now keeps his legs limbered up, by pedaling to and from the Station and his home on Wynedale Rd. We have in mind asking Henry if he makes the Essex Avenue hill on the seat or on his feet.

The Borough solons, assembled in the Council Chamber Monday night for the regular meeting of Council, thought they would fool old man humidity by turning on the electric fans with which the room is generously equipped. But it was found that the fans' hum became synchronized with the voice tones to such an extent that speakers were inaudible. So they turned 'em off and sweated.

Washington, D. C. (NWS)—When the war first started it used to be referred to consistently as in all-out war in which every man and woman in the country would be called upon to play an equally vital part.

But as wartime regulations were worked out and refined, it began to look to observers here more and more like other wars in which some groups are excused from service to their country, others are able to make profits out of war and millions are sort of in-between—doing a little, but not enough to make them feel that the war has required real personal sacrifice from them.

But the President's request for a law to draft men up to 65 for non-combat duty has brought things back to that all-out status. If miners who strike can be drafted into the army, it is pointed out by military leaders, it will follow regulations and shows an unwillingness to play his part can also be forced to perform the task which the government feels will be most helpful toward winning the war.

Some congressmen question whether a new law making it possible to draft miners into the army for war work is necessary, for they say that the War Manpower commission has the power right now to assign any man in the country to any kind of work. But whether the Manpower group has that authority or not, it hasn't been utilized and it is doubtful if it could be carried out practically without making use of the army draft.

Although the President hasn't been too definite about the wording of the law he would like to have, it is obvious that if a law were passed making it possible to draft all miners under 65, that law would apply to other groups as well and would make many family heads, now exempt from the draft, eligible for service.

In general, the President's request for such a measure has acted as a "go" signal to a congress which has been champing at the bit waiting for some guidance as to what type of legislation could be enacted which would end strikes and end other abuses of war time regulations.

It is quite likely that the congress will pass a stronger law than the President had in mind, since it is obvious here that congress for a long time has wanted to take strong action against rebels.

This action of the President's, incidentally, is the third demonstration within a few months of the power which the public still wields in this country. The public has been so insistent on having something done about the miners that congress finally put through an anti-strike bill which had been around for almost two years. Then the President recommended even stronger legislation. Before that, congress passed and the President signed a pay-as-you-go tax, even though congressional leaders and the President had previously indicated that they were opposed to this legislation.

There is a strong feeling here that the people of the country are suddenly being heard more clearly

Rural English Enjoy American Soldiers Drill

A member of a crack infantry drill unit, Pvt. Kearney has been travelling to communities throughout central England and marching in parades and celebrations aimed to increase the sale of war savings bonds. With his unit, he has been doing this for about five months and has been reviewed by many of the highest British officials.

"The English think we're a swell drill team, and several towns have invited us to return and put on another exhibition for them," pointed out the Lima soldier. "We enjoy doing it, too. We've met men and women in all of the British uniformed services who take part in the parades with us, and by doing it we're helping the R.A.F. to get more planes to smash more Nazi cities."

Pvt. Kearney, son of Mrs. Caroline Kearney, Pennell Road, Lima, has been in the European Theatre of Operations nine months. He was employed as an auto mechanic in Weathers' Garage, Lima, before he was inducted at Fort Meade, Md. He was graduated from Media High School in 1940.

Canning Fruit on Sugar Rations

When Delaware County home-makers swing into this second war summer of fruit canning, they'll go at it with the assurance of veterans. The methods that worked best in canning fruit last year will suit 1943 sugar rations, according to Miss Pauline B. Steinberg, home economics extension representative.

The guiding rule for using sugar for canning is the same as last year: Allow 1 pound of sugar to each 4 quarts of finished fruit, which means about a half cup of sugar to use in each quart jar. It usually takes three-fourths to one cup liquid to each quart jar of fruit to fill in around the solid food and to cover it well.

Here are some pointers for canning berries and other fruits as they come along.

1. Shift the sugar to fit the fruit. Sour fruits may demand and get more than the average. In that case, count on giving short-rations of sugar to some of the very juicy and sweet fruits.
2. Put up some fruit without sugar, if necessary. A little sugar helps canned fruits to hold color and flavor, but sugar isn't essential to keep canned fruit from spoiling.
3. Precook fruit for canning. Heat the fruit in fruit juice, or sirup, or water. Precooking shrinks the fruit, making it easier to get more into each jar.
4. Thin or moderately thin sirup is in step with the sugar ration. For thin sirup, use 1 cup of sugar to 8 than they have been in a long time. Congressmen watch their mail and their home town papers with greater interest than they used to. And they know that their votes, their speeches and their views are being followed by an increasingly interested group of constituents.

What's Your Score

The Lower Merion Council of Defense submits the following score sheet relative to food waste in the home, believing that Lower Merion Township housewives will be interested in the ideas contained in it, and may benefit by some of the suggestions.

"In this battle against food wastes," says Mrs. Conway Zirkle, chairman advisory Committee on Consumer Interests, "each homemaker is her own commanding officer and army. For every 'yes' in this Homemaker's Quiz, give yourself 5 points. One hundred per cent means a perfect score for victory."

1. Do you peel potatoes and apples thin?
2. Do you handle fruits gently so as not to bruise them?
3. Do you store cooking greens piled loosely to avoid bruising them?
4. Do you store glassed foods, onions, potatoes, butter and flour away from the light?
5. Do you seal and sun bread and cake containers once a week?
6. Do you defrost your refrigerator once a week and wash the entire interior including freezing unit, with warm soda water?
7. Do you leave eggs unwashed to retain the protective film that keeps out air and odors?
8. Do you store cherries, berries and grapes unwashed in a cold place?
9. Do you plan your food purchases carefully in advance of shopping?

cups of water or juice. For moderately thin sirup, use 1 cup of sugar to 2 cups of water or juice.

5. In place of sugar, use honey or corn sirup. Use honey to replace up to half of the sugar, or corn sirup to replace up to one-third of the sugar. A large portion of the sirup would mask the delicate fruit flavor.
6. Three don'ts to keep in mind: Don't use in canning any sirups that have high flavors of their own, such as maple, sorghum, or molasses. Don't use brown sugar. Don't use saccharine in canning.

For additional information on canning fruits, consult Miss Steinberg. She will be glad to help you. Her office is in the Court House, Media, Pa.

Vital War Role for Springfield Water

And now, Pantelleria.

Add Pantelleria to a long list of history making sieges where water played a vital part. Although the constant nineteen day rain of bombs made its position impossible, the Commanding Officer sent the revealing message "We beg to surrender through lack of Water."

While there is no lack of water here on the home front for essential uses, waste must be eliminated.

Successful Parenthood

There's a great deal of talk and alarm these days about juvenile delinquency, and there's no blinking our eyes to the fact that it is one of the increases. But while we are "viewing with alarm," it is comforting to remember that no one, not even the most harum-scarum adolescent, chooses to be a juvenile delinquent. He is most often pushed into the role against his will and the reasons for his delinquency are apt to be found in his family relationships.

There never was a time when fathers and mothers and children needed to be better friends than they do today because this is a time of great uncertainty, of strain and worry and trouble. As a result adult nerves are apt to be on edge and youngsters react to that and to the general nervous tension. It is a truism to say that what children need most of all is a sense of security. We are too apt to toss off that remark as though security was something you could hand a child in a neat little package. As a matter of fact, security is what we all want and very few, if any, of us have. You can't count on security. The thing to do is to be prepared for quite the opposite. The greatest service we can do our children is to bring them up to be brave, and dependable people, able to face what comes with courage. How can we do this?

In the first place we can show them that their own parents are people they can depend on. Don't tell Johnny one minute that he can't have something and then because he teases for it change your mind and tell him he can. On the other hand, don't promise him some treat and forget to keep your promise. Try to be consistent and be fair. A child grows up to feel that other people are dependable if he has first of all found his own parents dependable.

48 HOURS!

Just as long as a week-end pass.

That's all many of the boys get these days.

Not time enough for a few rounds of golf . . . or to flock a fly on a trout stream . . . or to loll on a beach.

For him, all that went out when the war came in.

Now, his vacation can be measured by the tick of a watch . . . just time enough for one of Mother's dinners . . . a long chat with Dad . . . a good night's sleep in his own bed . . . a glance at the Sunday morning paper . . . and back to camp.

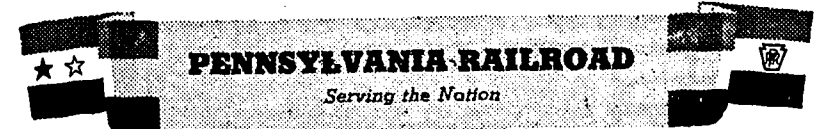

Please think of that young man when you plan YOUR vacation.

If you are going away for two weeks, start your vacation Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, so there will be seats and berths on week-end trains for him and his buddies. Try to time your travel to accommodate him!

You may not realize it, but right now more than 15 per cent of the total passenger traffic on the Pennsylvania Railroad is Service men traveling on leave. And most of it is over week-ends.

So please do your best to time your travel so that it doesn't interfere with theirs!
